1. Submitter

Specify the natural person or legal entity who owns the money as submitter.

If you are sending us money that somebody else owns and are thereby representing another natural person, this should be specified. In this case, attach a power of attorney to the request.

Amounts from SEK 10,000

If you wish to redeem a total amount from SEK 10,000, you must attach an attested copy of a valid form of identification to the request.

Legal entities must attach to the request an attested copy of a valid certificate of registration and an attested copy of a valid form of identification for the person authorised to sign for the company.

If you do not have a Swedish form of identification, you must attach an attested copy of your passport or another form of identification that specifies your citizenship.

Estates of deceased persons

When requesting for redemption regarding the estate of a deceased person, no power of attorney from other beneficiaries of the estate is required for amounts totalling less than SEK 10,000.

For amounts from SEK 10,000, an attested copy of the registered estate inventory must be obtained from the Swedish Tax Agency and attached to the request together with a power-of-attorney and attested copy of valid form of identification from every beneficiary of the estate. If there is only one beneficiary of the estate, an attested copy of the estate inventory and an attested copy of a valid form of identification will suffice.

Multiple consignments

If you choose to send the banknotes in several different consignments (e.g. letters), please state how many different consignments you will send and the total amount covered by the request.

If you send multiple consignments to the Riksbank, do not forget to specify your name along with each consignment.

2. Account details

The account details specified must belong to the submitter. If you nevertheless need to have money deposited in an account not belonging to the submitter, you must attach to the request an attested power of attorney from the submitter.

Specify the bank account number, including the clearing number (but do not include general clearing numbers e.g. the prefixes 1160, 9960 or 3300, but include just the specific clearing number that belongs to your bank account number).

3. Explanation

Specify from where you received the money and why it was not used during the period it was still legal tender. If you have documents that can confirm your explanation, you should enclose them.

If you need to attach any documentation, specify this by marking the box with a cross.

The Riksbank may request further information from you before any decision can be taken. The Riksbank may need to examine agreements, receipts, invoices or other documents indicating where you received the money from. The Riksbank has chosen to apply provisions of the Act (2009:62) on Measures against Money Laundering and Terrorist Financing, which entails that, for instance, banks are obliged to find out where the money comes from. The Riksbank must carry out such checks even if there is no suspicion of a crime.

Notification

If the Riksbank deems that there is reason to assume that your banknotes are connected to a crime, the Riksbank is obliged to inform the Police Authority.

4. Signature

The form must be personally signed by the submitter.

Legal entities

If the submitter is a legal entity, the form must be signed by a person authorised to sign for the company.
